

Montreal – April 18 and 19, 2007

Les Rencontres québécoises de l'industrie de la musique, the annual conference on Quebec's music industry, is a one-of-a-kind event attracting show business, recording and radio professionals from Quebec, Canada and abroad since 1995.

An annual event that's...

Relevant.

Because it's an unparalleled forum for discussing the questions of the moment faced by professionals in show business, recording and radio.

Unique.

For its tailor-made talks and workshops that are second to none; you just can't find better, higher-quality exchanges with speakers who are both well informed and respected in their fields.

Convivial.

Thanks to a friendly mood that guarantees the best in stimulating professional encounters, and an informal awards night recognized throughout the industry.

Year after year, Les Rencontres québécoises de l'industrie de la musique attracts over 500 participants to its site at the Bonsecours Market in historic Old Montreal.

Don't miss this year's Les Rencontres québécoises de l'industrie de la musique on April 18 and 19, 2007!

What participants are saying...

"Les Rencontres represents an opportunity for all Quebec music industry participants to spend a weekend together to share and discuss industry trends, stay current with new directions and try to collectively solve common problems that are impacting the industry. It is also an opportunity for new and smaller players to learn and grow their skills, rub shoulders with successful entrepreneurs and develop a wider network of contacts and new associates."

Donald K. Tarlton

Chairman, DKD Group, Canada

"I have been privileged to be part of Les Rencontres on two different occasions, and I can testify first-hand that it's a wonderful event for radio professionals who are serious about their careers. Come learn, make new friends and compare notes with colleagues who face the same challenges that you face every day."

Dan O' Day

Radio consultant, USA

"ADISQ's Les Rencontres has become the ultimate must-attend for movers and shakers in the industry. I love Les Rencontres because it gives us a chance to talk about today's biggest hurdles, while keeping our sights on the challenges to come."

Bruno Guglieminetti

Director and technology correspondent, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation

For information, contact the ADISQ at (514) 842-5147 or info@adisq.com.